

★ About Us ★

Military Mission Makeover was founded in early 2008 by one of country's top stylists, Evangelin Pesci, in Maryland. We are a non-profit 501(C)3 organization that was originally created to inspire our youth to give back to their communities by using their God-given talents. Using those very talents to entertain and boost morale for our veterans, American Legion, and other civic groups has been something we have taken pride in since the early 1980's. In early 2008, those efforts were refocused to not only help those in our communities, but also to concentrate on the needs of all branches of the U.S. military that have served overseas in the last few years..

We currently have salons and spas across the country ready to "adopt" homecoming servicemembers for a day of relaxation and pampering. The scope of our services varies depending on the number of participants and the sponsoring salon. Although some of the services we offer may be more attractive to women, we also support our servicemen — they too need to be pampered.

We're excited and eager to use our talents to support the brave men and women of our country, and to help them with a new image and sense of pride.

★ Our Vision ★

"We may never be able to give back what some have lost, but together we can make a difference by making the world beautiful... ONE HERO AT A TIME."

★ Get Involved with Military Mission Makeover ★

If you are in the beauty industry, there are a number of ways to get involved. Please consider donating supplies, sponsoring soldiers at a salon and volunteering your time. We also appreciate both local and national sponsorships and/or financial support to cover expenses for hair and make-up products, as well as participant care packages for each mission. Interested salons, sponsors and volunteers, please visit www.militarymissionmakeover.com or email us at info@militarymissionmakeover.com

Salons: Please contact us via email. Provide salon address and contact info as well as how many soldiers you would like to adopt.

If you are in the military and are interested in participating in this program, please email us at: info@militarymissionmakeover.com. All letters should be sent from a military email if possible and all soldiers who inquire must have been deployed overseas at some time within the last 5 years. A copy of your overseas orders may be required for participation. If there is a salon in your local area that you frequent, be sure to list the salon information. Also include a photo of yourself in uniform.

Please be advised that all information, letters, pictures etc. submitted to Military Mission Makeover (M.M.M.) become the property of M.M.M. In order to be eligible, you must provide the following:

- current head and shoulder picture, a picture of you in your military attire, pictures of you in the field (optional). Photos are used for preparation of makeover,
- you will be returning to the United States (if currently deployed),
- a reason why you would like to be considered for the Military Mission Makeover.

All soldiers selected must be in agreement with these terms and conditions:

1. All submissions become the property of M.M.M. and will not be returned.
2. Before and after pictures may be taken and edited to be used in any medium M.M.M. may choose.
3. Some soldiers may be featured in media coverage.
4. Please be advised not all applicants are guaranteed a makeover or spa day. These terms and conditions may also change depending on the location of the event. Soldiers will be chosen by availability in their area and by participating salons.

★ A Message From Our Founder ★

In 2008 I had the great honor of becoming involved with "H.O.M.E. for Mothers Day"—a project dedicated to sending donated beauty products to US military moms deployed in Iraq to create a "spa day". These endeavors are organized by a dear friend of mine whose sister is serving in Iraq and has been away from her family for quite some time. With much kindness and generosity, boxes of products were sent to troops. As a result of the campaign, spa days were held in Baghdad. I was so amazed when I heard how they were using the beauty industry to boost morale for the troops and keep their spirits up. That's when I came up with my idea: MILITARY MISSION MAKEOVER. What a great way to give back!

I sent a flier over to Iraq inviting our military personnel to receive a free makeover when they got back home. This would be my special way to say thank you. Military Mission Makeover began with great support of Renaissance Salon and Spa in Hunt Valley, Maryland. Originally, spa days were arranged for women in my local area of Pennsylvania and Maryland. I have since had the opportunity to travel to other states and am now organizing spa days throughout the US.

I had the wonderful opportunity to be on Bravo TV's Shear Genius where I was able to make contacts with people in the industry. I hope to use these contacts to really make an impact on others. So I started recruiting salons, spas and stylists across the country. The response was overwhelming.

My goal for the future is that Military Mission Makeover is able to reach as many service men and women as possible. I would like to see salons and spas everywhere giving back and showing what an impact the beauty industry has on others. Helping with transition and transformations is a great way to start anew and show our gratitude for all they have sacrificed. Together, we can truly make a difference one hero at a time.

God Bless you all,
Evangelin Pesci

MAKING THE WORLD MORE Beautiful ONE HERO AT A TIME

Returning home to your country seems to some like an easy task. However, for many service men and women, it is a very difficult transition. Our organization works with both troops and salons to bring a "day of beauty" and pampering to military men and women returning from overseas duty.
